

The Value of Music Education

We consider it vital that our children learn the ‘three R’s’ at school. Why care about music?

International and Australian research shows that learning music can make a significant difference to children's abilities. Studies have proven that children who are active music-makers are more likely to have improved maths and language skills, as well as better reasoning and problem-solving skills. Their memory is more likely to improve, as are their social and team skills.

Learning music can also improve children's motor skills and overall academic achievement. A landmark long-term study of 25,000 high school students over ten years showed that those students with sustained participation in school-based music activities performed better academically than non-musically active peers, regardless of the income status of their families.

Bundaberg and District Instrumental Music wish to offer your child a position in the Bundaberg North SHS Instrumental Music Program. As a member of the program, students will partake in FREE weekly lessons provided by Education Queensland Instrumental Music Teachers. These lessons are 30 minutes in length and are held during school time, at the school. Similar lessons taken outside of school can cost up to $30 per half hour. This means you can save up to $1000 per year, learning an instrument through your school.

As a member of the Instrumental Music Program, there are expectations for both students and parents.

PARENT EXPECTATIONS: #Provide your child with a suitable instrument after 12 months tuition #Maintain an interest in and support your child’s music study, including practice and attendance at lessons and rehearsals #Provide a safe place to store the instrument and help keep it clean and in good working order.

STUDENT EXPECTATIONS: #Attend all lessons and rehearsals as required #Practice regularly at home for at least 3 times per week #Participate in all concerts, workshops & camps.

FEES: All students learning an instrument in Bundaberg pay an annual $20 fee to the District Library to pay for new music used in ensembles, as well as covering the costs involved with photocopying music for workshops. While the weekly lessons are FREE of charge, students are asked to help with the maintenance of any school instruments they hire. The instrument hire fee is $30 per year per instrument. These costs will be invoiced by the school.
