Transition to Work

Information for Parents

Supporting your child in study or work

Is your child ready to be more independent? Is your child disengaged from school? Is it time for an alternative career pathway through work or study? We can help!

Our Transition to Work programme is designed for young people aged 15-21 who are ready to begin their journey to employment or study. Through our Transition to Work programme, your child will receive guided pre-employment support and mentoring that will help to gain the skills needed for success.

Our trained staff will work closely with your child to focus on practical involvement and work experience to build skills, confidence, readiness for work opportunities, and education outcomes including apprenticeships or traineeships.

We offer a range of training, services and support to get your child ready!

Transition to Work has a strong focus on helping young people to understand what is expected in the workplace and to develop the skills, attitudes and behaviours expected by employers.

We will help your child to:

- Develop practical skills to get a job
- Connect with education or training
- Find and participate in work experience opportunities
- Identify employment opportunities in the local area
- Connect with relevant local community services
